

Maria Dismondy

Publishing Consultant

Wondering how to get published? Tired of reading about it online? Maria Dismondy, award-winning author, now offers publishing consultations.

All sessions last 60 minutes and take place on the telephone or through Skype. Sessions include a follow up email that answers any questions that come up after the call. All callers will also be provided with notes, links to further research topics if desired and contacts that were given during the session.

Consulting topics offered

1. Shadow an Author

Learn what the job of a children's author who is writing for a living does. Ask questions and get motivation along with inspiration to write and edit your very own book.

2. Publishing Overview

During this session, you will gain an understanding of different publishing types. Maria will help you figure out what publishing path is best for you. Participants will learn the exact steps to take once they've made their decision.

3. Coaching Call

Maria works with writers who are in the process of writing, publishing and producing their book. She will work with you to see where you're at, provide encouragement, support and advice.

4. Building Your Brand

Writing is not just about having a book on the market. It's also about choosing a platform and developing your business. Maria works with writers to design a plan to get them started.

5. Preparing for the Launch of Your New Book

Once you choose your publishing path and your book is being printed, you will begin to prepare for the release of your book. Maria will work with you to organize the details of your launch. Marketing is a large part of the career of an author and you don't want to miss the opportunity to promote your book's release.

Nationally recognized author Maria Dismondy is dedicated to inspiring and empowering children.

She has authored six children's books, each with its own unique positive message, and made over 250 speaking appearances.

Maria holds an M.A. in education, and served as an elementary school teacher and reading interventionist for ten years before transitioning into her current role as author, blogger, professional speaker and business owner.
